How Any Woman Can Remove Hairy Growth

(Beauty Culture.)

It is no longer necessary for a woman to visit a beauty specialist to have superfluous hairs removed, for, with the aid of a plain delatone paste, she can, in the privacy of her own home, remove even a stubborn growth in a very few minutes. The paste is made by mixing some water with a little powdered delatone. This is applied to the hairs and after 2 or 3 minutes removed and the skin washed, when it will be left clear and hairless. Be sure you buy real delatone.—Advertisement.

GIRLS LIGHT THE ALL SAINTS' CHURCH

That is, They Raise Money for the New Lighting System—Provide Flowers for the Altar.

THEN FLOWERS GO TO SICK

By MELLIFICIA—March 23.

The girls of All Saints are feeling a special pride in the new lighting of the church, just completed. It was all done with money raised by the altar guild, a society composed of the younger women of the parish.

The president of the guild, Miss Frances Hochstetter, was able to attend service for the first time since her illness yesterday morning. With the president ill and in quarantine, one young woman of the guild would take the responsibility of the care of the hangings and arrangement of the flowers upon herself for the month. The present month this service is in charge of Miss Gladys Peters. One of the duties of the director of the month is to take the altar flowers to the sick of the parish.

Seymour Club Notes.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McAllister, who have been at the Henshaw since the burning of their home, have taken an apartment at the Helen.

Mrs. H. C. Townsend will move to the club as soon as the roads are passable and she can transfer her effects.

The secretary is sorry there was not time for the presenting of the secretary's membership trophy at the annual meeting. It will be held in reserve and the board of directors will be asked to assist in awarding it some time between now and the opening of the club.

At the annual meeting Messrs. Lord, Combs and Macdonald were re-elected for the term of three years on the directors and H. G. Windheim was elected to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of J. S. White.

Friends will be happy to learn that Mrs. W. H. Haselmir has recovered from her serious illness, which confined her to the hospital for the greater part of the winter.

L. M. Lord has planned some splendid improvements for his Seymour lake cottages, work to start in the spring.

A number of Seymour club ladies have been making enviable records on Mr. Clark's indoor golf course.

Mrs. Arnold's Honored Guest.

The guest and daughter-in-law of Colonel and Mrs. Daniel W. Arnold, Mrs. Edgar Vincent Arnold of Chicago, has been the honored guest of an informal Lenten affair every day of her two weeks' visit in Omaha. Yesterday Mrs. Arnold was entertained at luncheon at the Fontelle by Mrs. H. A. Cameron and Mrs. T. J. Nolan. In the evening she was the honor guest at a dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Cameron at their home. This afternoon Mrs. Charles H. Ashton, assisted by Mrs. Harry Arnold, gave a luncheon at her home for the Chicago guest. Those present were:

Tarpening-Pettis Wedding.

The announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Irene Gibson Pettis, daughter of Mrs. Ida Gibson Pettis, to Mr. Archie A. Tarpening of Ashland. The wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's mother by Rev. Joseph Neyer.

The bride is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Gibson, a pioneer family of the state, and a graduate of the Sacred Heart and Peru Normal. The bridegroom is one of the pioneer families of Ashland.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton R. Williams were the attendants and the bride received her orange blossoms from her uncle, Mr. Martin A. Gibson of San Gabriel, Cal.

After a honeymoon in the far south Mr. and Mrs. Tarpening will be at home in Omaha after April 1.

Rummy Club Notes.

The Rummy club was entertained at luncheon at its regular fortnightly meeting Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. J. A. Freeland. The centerpiece was a basket of sweet peas. Luncheon was followed by cards. The guest of the occasion was Mrs. O. I. Purdy, who substituted for Mrs. Alex Jeter, who has gone to Excelsior Springs for two weeks. The highest score was won by the club guest. The next meeting will be in two weeks with Mrs. Frank O. Browne, hostess.

Temperance Women Entertained.

Mrs. W. H. Mick entertained Omaha Women's Christian Temperance union members to the number of forty-five at luncheon at her home Wednesday, when the business meeting, too, of the union was held at her home. Yellow and

A Fashionable Sport Suit

The extensive range of styles in sport suits is a marked feature of the spring display of fashions. Wool jersey is largely used in these suits. The colors and novelty plaids and checks are the smartest that have been seen in some time. This particularly snappy sport suit is developed in brown and black wool check. The coat is belted, somewhat similarly to Norfolk style. Brown glazed kid trims the collar, cuffs and pocket tabs; also covers the buttons.

Wealthy Chicago Woman is Shot to Death in Her Auto

CHICAGO, Ill., March 23.—Mrs. Annie Monroe Clemons was killed by a bullet from an automatic as she was driving in an automobile yesterday. With her husband she was out for a drive when something went wrong with the machine. Mr. Clemons was partly under the car when the shot was fired and crawled out to find his wife dead.

Friends of Mrs. Clemons says the shooting was accidental, while the police assert a belief that the woman shot herself. At the same time the husband, Austin A. Clemons, is being detained at the Woodlawn police station. He said the pistol was carried in the machine as a protection and that his wife had been dependent since the loss of their child some months ago.

Mrs. Clemons inherited $100,000 from her father, James B. Monroe, a lawyer. Her marriage to Clemons several years ago resulted in her being virtually cut off from all intercourse with her family.

Spring Fashions in Men's Clothes to Be Shown in Windows

To out rival the display of women's wear in the windows of the retail stores is something of a task, as all will admit, but that is what the clothing stores of Omaha are going to seek to do the "Week of Wonderful Windows," which opens at 7:30 the evening of March 23. Everything that has been created for the spring and summer of 1916 in the clothing line is to be exhibited in the most attractive manner. Display men are even now working day and night on their designs and displays, snapping and planning their windows with the view of displaying the maximum of goods, at the same time preserving the maximum of artistic effect for the whole.

Scores of new models in hundreds of strikingly new fabric effects are to be shown during that week of display.

Beddeo to Stage Big Spring Opening at His Store This Week

All is readiness for the spring opening of "King" Beddeo, which will be held Friday and Saturday of this week.

The store has been artistically and profusely decorated for the staging of the exhibit of the latest spring fashions. Ultra-modern and correct apparel for men, women and children will be shown to advantage during the two days' fashion display.

Every visitor on both days of the exhibit will be given a souvenir. An orchestra will be a feature of "King" Beddeo's spring opening.

WORK OF ART IS TAKEN TO HOME OF MRS. GALLAGHER

The beautiful statue of Jael, which for the last six years has been in the lobby on the first floor of the Omaha library, has been replaced in Mrs. Gallagher's home. While library officials were reluctant and sorry to give up the much admired piece of statuary, it was understood at the time of presentation that it was merely a loan and not a gift. In returning the statue, library officials expressed their deep appreciation to Mrs. Gallagher for the loan of this finely chiseled work of art.

GIVES ADVICE TO GIRLS AT SCHOOL

Miss Helen Bennett Says It Does Not Pay Young Women to Work Way Through School.

SOME WOULD SUCCEED, ANYWAY

"Girls, don't go through college if you have to work your way through. The most successful career is not worth the price you pay physically, nor is it compensation for the 'tired' feeling with which you go through life afterward."

This is Miss Helen Bennett's message to high school girls. Miss Bennett is manager of the Collegiate Bureau of Occupations in Chicago. She gave two talks at Central High school, one to the girls and the other to school teachers, impressing upon the teachers especially the importance of discouraging girls from attempting to work their way through college.

"But isn't it true that a number of very successful women have worked their way through school?" Miss Bennett was asked.

"Yes, but those women would have been successful anyway," she replied. "While the vocational guidance bureaus are primarily to keep boys and girls in the public schools and high schools as long as possible in order to make them self-supporting the college education is a different matter entirely. In the first case the children are living at home and are only partially self-supporting. In college the girls must work for their board, room, clothing, laundry and other expenses, and carry their studies at the same time."

Not Versed in Boys.

"Does the same apply to boys? Should they, too, be discouraged from working their way through college?" she was asked.

"Far be it from me, a single, unmarried woman, to go into the boy's problem. It is all I can do to deal with the girl's problem," she replied archly.

Miss Bennett gave the girls some lively pointers on going out into the world to tackle their first job.

"Don't go out and hunt any old job," she admonished them, "but try to discover first for what you are fitted. Then find your niche. Accuracy and a sense of responsibility are the two greatest assets a girl can possess in order to land the best position. Personal appearance, too, is a big factor. You must be pretty. Every girl owes it to herself to make herself good looking."

Leaves Make-Up to Girls.

Whether a girl should resort to aids to beauty in order to attain these ends, Miss Bennett declined to say. "I leave that to the girls," she said.

To the teachers, she called attention to their influence in guiding students into vocations they shall follow, and urged them to study the individuality of the student.

The institution of the local vocational guidance bureau by the Association of Collegiate Alumnae is the best thing done for girls in the history of Omaha, according to Miss Bennett.

Miss Bennett will speak to all club women interested in vocational guidance for girls at a luncheon at the Hotel Loyal Friday at 12:15 o'clock, for which Mrs. Hubert Owen is receiving reservations. Miss Bennett is enroute home from the vocational guidance conference at the University of Nebraska early in the week, at which she was one of the speakers.

BIRD HOUSES ARE NOW ON EXHIBITION

Unique Display at City Hall is Attracting All Sorts of Attention.

OPEN UNTIL SATURDAY NIGHT

The bird house exhibit was officially opened at 9 o'clock yesterday morning in council chamber of the city hall. The opening was quite informal. The houses have been arranged in an attractive manner, and altogether the exhibit is an interesting display of bird comfort as well as the handwork of manual training boys of the public schools.

Park Officer Anthony stood guard Wednesday night. During the silent hours of the night he heard a disturbance in a corner of the room. An investigation showed that a wire holding a dozen bird houses had broken under its weight.

The exhibit will be open until 9:30 p. m. today and 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Saturday. Visitors will be given desired information concerning birds and bird houses. Everybody in Greater Omaha is invited to attend this exhibit, which is the first of its kind held in this city.

From Wisconsin Bark.

One of the attractive wren houses was made by the boys of Windsor school. The bark was sent from Wisconsin. Ernestine Faulkner of Cass school made a fine martin house, which she wishes placed in Jefferson Square. Master Faulkner believes the birds of the square should be remembered.

City Commissioner Hummel, who furnished the lumber for the manual training boys, and who started the idea, visited the exhibit and expressed pleasure at the results of the boys' efforts. He will place the houses in the parks next week.

A few of the houses are feeding stations. Miss Helen Thompson, manual training supervisor, will be in attendance during the exhibit and will be assisted by a corps of teachers. Many already have visited the bird houses and expressed surprise and admiration.

One of the bird houses resembles a tiny cradle. "That is for the baby birds," suggested Robert Cowell of the Board of Education.

President Ernst of the school board visited the exhibit and expressed considerable pleasure. He commended all concerned for the excellent work. City commissioners also dropped in and learned a few of the things they forgot about bird houses.

ELEPHANT MOVES ON TO A TRAINING SCHOOL

The elephant brought in from Red Wing, Minn., Wednesday, by the Great Western was washed out by the Missouri Pacific and in a special car was started for Quensmo, Kan., where it goes to "Honest Bill," who conducts an animal training school at that point.

According to Commercial Agent Taylor of the Missouri Pacific, the elephant, passing through Omaha is one of the largest ever seen, the way bill accompanying designating its weight at 11,000 pounds.

Solos and Duets of Birds Heard at the Bird House Exhibit

Visitors at the bird house exhibit may hear the notes and songs of many Nebraska birds, as well as other birds. During the three days of the exhibit Miss Migna Moore of Lathrop school will run Victrola records of notes and songs of the robin, Baltimore Oriole, bluejay, bluebird, cardinal, cuckoo, nightingale, canary, thrush, sparrow and other birds.

One record sends forth songs of captive nightingale and sparrow and a duet by a canary and thrush in the aviary of Herr Karl Reich of Bremen.

PROF. BARBOUR TO TALK TO TECHNICAL CLUB MONDAY

The Technical club of Omaha, will hold its next meeting at the Paxton hotel on Monday evening, March 27, at which time Prof. Erwin H. Barbour of the University of Nebraska, will present an illustrated lecture on "City Planning."

Prof. Barbour is well equipped with colored slides with which to illustrate his lecture, which should be of vital interest to everyone and should insure a large attendance.

UNION PACIFIC LAWYERS ARE MEETING IN OMAHA

A conference of company attorneys from all over the Union Pacific is being held at headquarters. N. H. Loomis, general solicitor, is chairman of the meeting.

The conference of Union Pacific attorneys at this time, according to the assertion of headquarters officials, is a sort of a family affair for the purpose of exchanging opinions and getting together on the method of procedure in the conduct of legal matters. There are some fifteen attorneys attending the conference.

VEHICLE TAB MAN DREAMS HE IS COUNTING AIRSHIPS

During the hours of 7 and 9 a. m., four mornings this week, E. J. Sero counted vehicles passing busy intersections. He says he counts vehicles in his sleep.

His last count was at Sixteenth and Harney streets, where 578 vehicles passed in the two hours mentioned.

"Dreamed I was counting a flock of airships last night," remarked Mr. Sero, who is secretary to Commissioner Kugel.

NIGHT HIGH SCHOOL IS TO CLOSE NEXT WEEK

The Omaha Evening High school which was started last fall in Central High school, under the principalship of Karl F. Adams, will close next Thursday evening when a program will be given by some of the students.

The enrollment has been 1,700 and the average attendance 1,100.
